The Sticky Affair

Chapter 1

Stephanie had worked her ass off for the last month at the strip club, going the extra mile, giving clients private shows, in order for her to have a nice bit of extra cash. So she would be able to treat herself and her secret partner Stephen too a great weekend of fun, she hoped this would make for a very fun and interesting event in the bedroom, when they secretly met up behind their partners backs, the next time they were both out of the picture.

Stephanie, had her eye on something she had found online, which she thought would help her and Stephen become much more intermate lovers, and she now had the extra funds to make it happen. She knew, she could afford to purchase 2 fully customisable skinsuits, which made her extremely excited with the thought of all the naughty possibilities.

But first it was time to set up her order and see what was needed for her to be able to customise her skinsuit. The first option was to upload 4 full body photos, which needed to include a front, a back and both side profiles. Stephanie thought for a second and realised that only way she could get these images was to use her own body as a tester to see what the next options would be and require. She took out her phone and went about taking the images and then reluctantly loaded them onto the site.

The second option was to add an audio recording of the voice for the skinsuit, it said to say the line of text which was displayed. Stephanie did what was needed and uploaded the audio file. The next option was to fill in a bunch of questions confirming body measurements and other attributes, such as hair colour and length, eye colour, breast size, shoe size and weight.

The next page of questions were a little more personal, which included, gender confirmation, sexual preferences and a whole host of other personal desires and preferences, which just needed one of the option boxes to be ticked.

After Stephanie had finished, the next option was to check and test out the skinsuit on the site to make sure that everything was correct and to get a general overview of the order prior to confirming the purchase. Stephanie was absolutely blown away! And added it to the basket, ready to be purchase, she then turned her attention to her phone, where she messaged Stephen asking him for pictures, a voice message and the list of answers for the questions. With her only explaining it was for a surprise, for when they were going to be alone again next month.

Stephen responded with all of the bits Stephanie had requested, and she got to work setting up the purchase for his skinsuit. Stephanie paid for her purchases, then casually leaned back into the sofa, with the feeling of success, she realised that this was actually something that was now going to happen now!. All Stephanie needed to do was just deal with that dreaded wait, for the skinsuits to be delivered.

It had been about 4 weeks since Stephanie had committed and ordered the skinsuits and they were due any day now. Stephanie and Stephen had hardly been able to meet up for the last month, due to work and their actual relationship commitments. But while they were waiting for the delivery to come they had both surprisingly managed to free up the following weekend, where both of their partners would be out of town.

Stephanie's fiancé Daniel, had decided to go and see his parents for the weekend, Stephanie had said she had to cover one of the girls at the club, but promised him that when he got back she would make it up to him, by letting him live out one of his hottest fantasies.

Stephen's girlfriend was a few years younger than him and had agreed to go to a festival, with her girl friends, which Stephen agreed, that she certainly needed to have some fun and relax with her friends after just graduating from university.

This meant that both Stephanie and Stephen were partner free for the forthcoming weekend, and the skinsuits were due any day now!. They were so amazed that they had actually managed to free up the days, their anticipation was overwhelming. Stephanie, had not told Stephen her full plan, but Stephen had an idea, that it must be either, some kind of suit he could go out in with Stephanie, Like a tux or really nice suit, or she had got him some kind domatrix/pet slave outfit? based on the things she had randomly asked him a few weeks back. His mind was constantly in a state of wonder and anticipation, he also wondered what she had got herself!? But for now, the countdown had started for the kinky couples secret weekend love affair.

It was a Friday morning, and there was a knock at the door. Stephanie's eyes light up! "Ooo that's my delivery!"....She realised, she had said that in a far too much of an excited tone of a voice, especially when everyone was still in the apartment having breakfast.

She took the delivery, and signed for it, then she struggled, but quickly put the parcels in her bedroom, hoping it would be less noticeable, while being careful not to drop or damage them in anyway, as she walked through the apartment. It was really lucky that they came in standard plain brown cardboard boxes, so no one could tell what was in the box.

Stephen and Daniel had watched her with eagle eyes, as she made her way through the apartment from the front door to her bedroom, both thinking 'what the hell could be in them boxes!?'.

Stephanie exited her and Daniel's bedroom with a cheshire cat smile on her face, she realised she needed to make sure, her plan for the weekend was not to be questioned and decided to tease her fiancé. "Ooo sweetie, you're just going to love the surprises I have planned, when you get back" she giggled, knowing full well that it was actually meant for Stephen, who could clearly hear every word she had just said to her fiancé...

Once everyone had finished their breakfasts, Daniel and Stephen's girlfriend started to get ready to leave for the weekend. Stephanie and Stephen made sure that they stayed far apart from each other, to not cause any suspicion of their forthcoming naughty weekend.

But the two of them could feel the lust, rising in the atmosphere of the apartment, unbeknown to their partners.

The First to leave was Daniel, and Stephanie saw him down to his car to see him off, making sure to be very vocal about how much she loved him, and how she was going to miss him while he was away, also throwing in the cheeky little tease of what awaited for him on his return.

Next to leave was Stephen's girlfriend, they had only been dating for a year, and they rented the spare room in Stephanie and Daniel's apartment, as it was cheaper, and meant they could save some money to get their own place soon.

Tiffany, Daniel's girlfriend, was super excited about going to the festival and seeing her girl friends, as she had not seen them in what felt like forever! She gave Stephen a huge hug and a kiss that felt so heartfelt and full of passion, and she whispered into his ear, "if you think they have plans after this weekend, you should see what I have planned for you, when I get back! you lucky, boy..." Tiffany then said goodbye to Stephanie and made sure to hug Stephen one last time and then kissed him on the lips, giving him a quick menacing look, deep into his eyes, as to, implant a vivid memory of herself, which would last the weekend while she was away.

As soon as Tiffany had closed the apartment door behind her, Stephanie and Stephen, gave each other a look, which saw both of them start to smile uncontrollably.

Then Stephanie said, "so my sexy lover boy, I hope you're ready for what's about to happen this weekend", giving off a little giggle, she carried on, we should give it half an hour to make sure they are completely gone, in the mean time, I'm going to unpack the surprises and you should jump in the shower and maybe have a shave too, while I do that sweetie".

Stephen then proceeded to do as he had been asked, and jumped in the shower, making sure that he also well shaven. When he got out of the shower and started walking to his bedroom, he could hear Stephanie being very vocal, like she was blown away with whatever she had been delivered, he could hear her squeal "oh my fucking god! I can't believe it! These are so amazing!" As she burst out of her bedroom, desperately in need to finally show Stephen what she had planned for them for the weekend ahead.

She grabbed Stephen's arm and dragged him into her room, "Right Mister!, now close your eyes and wait for me to tell you to open them!" Stephanie said, while she unpacked the skinsuit and then positioned Stephen in front of the skinsuit, she wanted him to wear for the weekend. "Ok Stevie!, you can open your eyes now!"

Stephen slowly opened his eyes, and started focus on everything that was in front of him... After a couple of seconds, he responded, "...urm Steph?", Slightly confused, this was certainly not what he thought he would be presented with. "Oh do you not like it!?" Stephanie responded, "do you know what it is you're looking at?" She continued, while Stephen started to pick up the suit and investigate a bit more on what Steph had presented to him.

Stephanie carried on explaining "This Stevie!, is a completely 100 percent replicate of my body made into a wearable skinsuit! , I know you love me and my body, and i love your sexy muscles and the other huge thing, so I thought we could make this a fun weekend. If we did a little dare and pretended to be one another for the weekend? i'd love to see what I look like from your perspective!/, plus these are also fully functional skin suits, so we can have all the fun we want!. We can always take them off if you don't feel comfortable at any point" Stephanie looked over to Stephen with coy eyes, knowingly having made sure to have twisted Stephen's arm with a get out plan, if he had got to a point where he had enough of being her.

Stephen looked over to Stephanie and completely shocked her, "...So we can stop if it gets too weird, right!?, I mean you did spend a lot of money on these, and they do look amazing!, If you really want to try this, I'm up for it...But if it gets weird, well stop, agreed!". Stephanie's eyes lit up, to what she had just heard, "yes of course sweetie!, you are literally the BEST!, now lets get started!!" as Stephanie picked up the instructions that came with the skinsuits.

Stephanie insisted that Stephen go first with putting on the skinsuit, and started to read out the instructions to Stephen, "ok, so the first things to do are shower before use and then use the lotion supplied to the whole of the wearer's body, to help slip into and out of the skinsuit" .

Stephen then preceeded to cover himself in the cream supplied, as Stephanie hands Stephen the skinsuit of herself. "Ok Stevie, so far so good, now next thing to do is start putting the skinsuit on, via the mouth apparently?. It says that the skinsuit is capable of stretching withouth tearing or causing any lasting damage to it". Stephen stretches open the mouth and starts to put both legs in till the suit is up to his waist, he then puts one arm in until its fully fitted, then does the other arm, and finally pulls the mouth over his head till he is completely in the suit, and adjusts the face to make sure it's a nice snug fit.

"Ok now what!?" says Stephen, as he looks to Stephanie and see's her looking over in disbelief.. "Oh my god! You look amazing!, Ok now it's my turn!" Stephanie says, as she starts to put on the cream and putting on her skinsuit of Stephen.

Once fully in the skin suit Stephanie, picks up the instructions and carries on reading them, "it will take 30minutes for the skinsuit to adjust to the correct measurements that were applied to it when it was ordered, the occupant of the skinsuit may feel, minor pain and signs of discomfort while this process is underway. Please be aware that this is normal and to be expected and should last only a short period of time". Stephanie proceeds to say to Stephen "well Stevie, it looks like you've got about 10 minutes left, till that starts happening to you!, how are you feeling sweetie?".

Stephen had already started to feel the skinsuit getting tighter all over his body, it felt more like the skin was now more as if it was his actual skin, he could now feel the slightest touch when he brushed against the skinsuit and could even feel the cool breeze from the open window, which he did not expect. He said to Stephanie "I think it's started, I can feel my whole body getting pushed and pulled around inside this skinsuit now!".

As soon as he had said that, the level of discomfort increase and Stephanie couldn't believe what she was seeing!, Stephen's skinsuit now was identical to her own body, her jaw dropped in amazement. "Oh Stevie! Or should I say Steph now!" she giggled. Stephen looked in the mirror and stood frozen in complete disbelief with a look of complete shock in his face.

"S-Steph!.... I c..c..cant, b..believe it, I look just like you! I could even pass as your identical twin!" He said, as he looked over and saw that Stephanie was now looking like she must be going into the transformation stage, as she was starting to groan in pain.

"Don't worry Steph! It won't take long and the pain goes away completely once it's finished" Stephen said, as he watched with his eyes getting bigger and bigger by the second, in complete amazement of what was happen in front of him.

Once Stephanie was over the worst of it, they decided to look at themselves in the mirror, now that they looked completely like one another, "this is so cool Stevie! I can't believe how great we look!, This is going to be so much fun!" Said Stephanie as she reached for the instructions to see what was next.

"Ok, so it says that once the skinsuit is fully fitted with the imprinted voice and other preference information, it will start to kick in!, Ooo I can't wait to hear your voice coming out of me and my voice coming out of you! This is sooo worth the money!" Stephanie said, completely smitten with the reality of what was unfolding.

"You know what we should do now while we are waiting, let's agree that while we are in these skinsuits, that we pretend that we really are each other! and call each other by each others names?.... What do you think stephy!?", Stephen looked Stephanie in her eyes and replied in a more feminine voice "oh Stevie you naughty boy, I think you need to go and put some clothes on, so I can rip you out of them later! And as for me, I think there is another little box you managed to hide from me, so I think I'm going to see how the contents of that package looks on me! Now go get ready and let's meet back in the living room once we're ready, I can't wait to see your reaction!" Stephen was shock with how he sounded and acted like Stephanie.

The real Stephanie left the bedroom and made her way to Stephens bedroom, to prepare for the big reveal, and also took the instructions with her. Stephen now looking and sounding more like Stephanie by the minute, decided to tidy up the mess from the boxes, so they would not get in the way later, and opened the small upopened package. It was a set of sexy nightwear, it looked expensive and left nothing to the imagination, Stephen decided to put it on and started to check out his new body in its full glory, his mind wondered think to himself Its a good thing I don't have a penis at the moment, because this would be so weird with one, but i wonder what it's going to feel like, later when.....Stephen stopped, in shock.... was he actually thinking about how good, having sex later was going to be?!...

In the other room Stephanie had got ready and was reading through the instructions and noticed that the page was actually folded in half, and that there was a back side of the instructions, which had additional information and warnings to be read, before using the skinsuits.

As she read to herself, with her mumbling the words as she skim read her way down the page. There were a few lines in bold red text, which stood out on the page 'once adhesive cream has been applied and the seal with skinsuit to the host body has been achieved, a releasing agent will need to be applied to remove the skinsuit'

Stephanie's eyes just glared at the lines and read them about 6 times before she realised, that she remembered that there was nothing else in the boxes!, She started to panic thinking Where the hell was the releasing agent, why was it not sent with the god damn skinsuit!

She quickly looked on Stephen's computer and looked to see if she could order some, and her jaw dropped when she saw that they were currently sold out and ordering would take 6 weeks for delivery, once they had them back in stock.

Stephanie decided to break the news and show Stephen what she had just found out, but then she heard keys being put into the door of the apartment and the door slowly opening, with a loud and very familiar male voice, making his presence known. "hey babe! Are you home?, my car broke down just before I got on the motorway! I've managed to get it towed to the garage, but it looks like I'm here for the weekend now instead"....
