The Transfer

Chapter 2

By Natalie3991

14/04/2023

It had been about a month since the first time Jenny had tried the mind transfer machine, that was in the basement of her late grandmother's house. Which Jenny and her other half Lex got in Jenny's grandmothers will.

Lex knew nothing about the secret room in the basement and Jenny had already kind of learnt how to use it a bit, and had tested it out in their maid-bot about a month ago.

Jenny was feeling a bit more adventurous, and wanted to try a longer transfer, for her second time. Jenny had tried to time the transfer, for when she could pretend to be away for the weekend, so that Lex would be none the wiser to her newly acquired kink.

Jenny decided that she would be their maid-bot for the weekend, and then while Lex was out Sunday night, she would be able to reverse the transfer, using the timer on the computer in the secret room in the basement. And be able to move the maid-bots body into the basement to re-load the maid-bots factory program again.

Jenny had already updated the maid-bot in order for it to be able to have a little bit of freedom with the tasks that the house computer set it, even though it seemed, it was unaware of the upgrade. So technically, she hoped, she would be able to do any of the tasks the house computer tasked her with, however she wanted to as long as it got completed. Jenny knew that while she occupied their maid-bots body, she would be predominantly be under the control of the house computer and/or Lex.

At least she wouldn't be bored, she thought to herself, and she kinda wanted to see how Lex used their maid-bot, while she wasn't around.

Jenny went to the basement to set up everything Friday evening while Lex was still at work. She was going to pretend to leave for the weekend, and leave early Saturday morning, while Lex would still be asleep. Jenny thought it would be the perfect time for her, to transfer her mind into their maid-bot, before Lex woke up so he would be none the wiser.

Jenny had set everything up in the room in the basement, everything was now ready for her weekend transfer.

5am the next morning Jenny's alarm went off and she started to get ready, Jenny had packed a suitcase for her pretend weekend away, just to add to the illusion for Lex to believe she was actually leaving for the weekend.

Jenny got herself ready, just in some casual clothes as she wasn't actually leaving the house. She called the maid-bot, who had just activated from its sleep pod, to help carry her suitcase to the basement.

Jenny opened the door to the room and asked the maid-bot to place it over by desk. Then Jenny asked the maid-bot to sit on one of the metal chairs, while she plugged the cable in to the maid-bots neck. Jenny began the transfer of the maid-bots mind onto the hard-drive of the computer, once completed, Jenny unplugged it and connected it to the cable that linked to the pod she would be getting into.

With the cable now all plugged into the maid-bot, Jenny set the delayed timer for 5 minutes so she would have enough time to get into the tank and connect herself up.

Jenny quickly undressed herself and scurried up the ladder to the top of the tank and attached everything to keep her body alive while her mind was transferred.

Once in the tank Jenny closed her eyes and waited for that feeling of falling, which meant that the transfer was under way.

It didn't take long, until she felt herself falling... As soon as that feeling stopped, Jenny slowly opened her eyes. She could see her body suspended in the tank in front of her, and to the left, the timer on the computer that had started counting down from 48 hours.

Jenny stood up and took a moment to adjust to being in the maid-bots body again, this time however, she was going to be acting as the maid-bot for the whole weekend instead of just for an hour.

As Jenny made her way over to the door she had one last look around the room, to make sure everything looked ok and took a final look at her body suspended in the tank. She picked up the key to the room from the pile of her belongings before fully committing to her plan. As she opened the door and walked outside the room, the reality of her situation dawned on her, as soon as she locked the door.

Jenny hid the key under a box on the floor next to the door. This was the last time for the next couple of days, until she would be back here. For as soon as she walked up the stairs from the basement, the house computer, would reconnect with the maid-bot, only this time Jenny was the host of its body.

Slowly Jenny walked up the stairs and quietly opened the door to the basement, then quietly closed it behind her. No soon had the door clicked close, she could feel the house computer connecting to her maid-bot body. Jenny was a bit overwhelmed, this was the first time that she had done this, and she was just hoping everything would work out as she hoped.

Jenny could feel the house computer checking all of her memory files, which also happened to be her mind and the standard maid-bot program. It only took about a minute before the house computer confirmed that it had established a connection to the maid-bot.

Jenny could feel that she wasn't totally in control of all of her actions as the house computer instructed her to complete the morning cleaning and maintenance tasks, Jenny felt her body automatically moving to the required area of their house to start her tasks.

Jenny could move her head and eyes freely but while she was walking to the designated area she had no control over the rest of her body!.

Jenny started to panic, that the code she used wasn't working as intended!, that was until she reach the kitchen, to begin cleaning it. Once she was in the kitchen she started to clean it automatically, it was only when she actually tried to stop herself, that she realised that she could.

Jenny wasn't quite sure what she was going to do now, but she certainly needed to find out the extent of her capabilities in her current body. She was happy that she at least had some control over her maid-bots body, which meant that the code was working. She would certainly have to tweak it a bit more for the next time, that was for sure. As a quick test Jenny tried to leave the kitchen to see what the house computer would do to her. As she stepped out of the room, she braced herself....then nothing happened, Jenny would of had a grin on her face about this, but unfortunately the maid-bots face was not capable of expressing facial emotions.

Jenny decided to let the maid-bot program continue, as to not raise any suspicion to the house computer.

As she started to continue cleaning, Jenny kind of started enjoying the experience as she didn't have to think about what she was doing, as the maid-bots program was doing it all for her. Jenny also noticed she couldn't feel anything she touched either, presuming it was, as she was made of metal. So for now, Jenny was basically along for the ride at this point, having a first person's point of view and experience as their actual maid-bot.

It wasn't long before Lex was finally up, he made his way down to the kitchen to make some breakfast. Jenny knew that Lex would not think anything was different with their maid-bot, because technically, the maid-bots program was still running normally. When Lex walked into the kitchen, he saw their maid-bot cleaning and decided to order it to go and clean the bedroom and bathroom.

As Jenny was along for the ride at this point she just let the program do its thing. As Jenny made her way up to their bedroom to clean it. She heard Lex on the phone chatting to a friend, she didn't manage to hear all of the conversation, but managed to catch something about, dropping something over.

What Jenny was unaware of at this moment, was what Lex had planned for the weekend.

His friend Max, from work had a broken pleasure-bot, which he wanted fixing, but was a bit embarrassed about taking it to a shop to get repaired. So he had asked Lex if he could at least take a look to see what was wrong with it and if possible try to fix it over the weekend.

Jenny had finished cleaning their bedroom, she was impressed with how clean and tidy it was and she felt great!. If she was to do all of that in her own body, she probably would have taken longer and been exhausted from it.

With that Jenny could feel the house computer taking control of her and ordering her to her next task. As she started walking the door bell rang. Which she automatically got told by the house computer to answer. Jenny made her way to the door and answered it. If she could of shown any kind of expression, It would or been a shocked face, because at the door was a man roughly the same age as Lex, and what appeared to be a pink and white robot strapped to a trolley.

Jenny's maid-bot program kicked in, and introduced herself, "good morning, welcome to the Joneses residents, how may this maid-bot assist you". The gentleman at the door responded, "Hi, is Lex in? I'm just delivered this to him". Jenny felt the maid-bot programming kicking in, trying find the best solution for the situation. Jenny then heard herself say "Mr. Jones, is currently unavailable at present, this maid-bot will gladly take your delivery on his behalf".

Lex's friend pushed the trolley to Jenny, who took a firm grasp of the trolley. And wheeled it into the lobby of the house. When she went back to the door the gentleman was gone. Jenny then closed the door, she could feel the instruction of 'inform Mr. Jones of the delivery'. The house computer directed Jenny to the location of Lex, and she began walking to him.

All the while Jenny, was thinking about what was this new bot all about!? And why was it in their home!.

As Jenny approached Lex, she informed him that a delivery was waiting for him in the lobby, in their maid-bots voice. Lex thanked the maid-bot and asked it to continue with it's orders from the house computer. As Lex walked to the lobby Jenny felt the orders from the house computer, to continue her cleaning routine on the upper levels of the house. This meant she couldn't find out what Lex was doing at least until she had finished and been given her next task. This gave Jenny enough time to wonder about all the possibilities that Lex might be up too. From Jenny's perspective, she had no clue what was happening. Lex on the other hand knew exactly what was happening. Lex had set up the broken pleasure-bot on the table in the living room and had started to run a diagnostic test on it, to find out the reason for why his friends bot was not working.

About an hour later Jenny was ordered to go to Lex in the living room by the house computer. Jenny was happy that she would finally get to see, what Lex was up to. Though what she saw when she entered the room, was certainly not what she was expecting. Lex had pretty much turned their living room into what could only be described as temporary robot repair shop. Jenny was intrigued with why Lex needed their maid-bot, when he seemed to have everything under control.

Lex instructed their maid-bot to sit down in the chair next to the laptop. Jenny all of a sudden, didn't like where this was heading. But she couldn't actually do anything other than do as Lex instructed. She realised that the code she uploaded to the base maid-bot program, obviously only worked with the house computer command's, but not with owner commands. Which meant Jenny had no freedom while being instructed by Lex, as he picked up a cable connected to his laptop, he plugged it into the maid-bots port on its neck.

Jenny would have screamed to tell him to stop, if she could have. As Lex started looking through their maid-bots files, he noticed something that he was pretty certain wasn't part of the base program. Lex took his time and came to the conclusion that Jenny must of added a custom personality to the maid-bot, at some point, maybe to test what the difference to the standard maid-bot program was.

What Lex began to do next, to Jenny's horror! was to upload a standard pleasure-bot base program to their maid-bots custom personality, this essentially didn't alter the custom personality (that was Jenny's actually mind) but actually added to it. Jenny could feel all the information being added to her mind, she was overwhelmed with how much information that she was being subjected to. Some how she managed to stay conscious but it felt like she had a migraine. After about a minute the migraine feeling stopped instantly, Jenny was thankful that was over, but the trouble now was that she knew things that she didn't know before. She was shocked when she realised she now knew hundreds of ways to pleasure men and women, she actually felt like they were part of her own memories now.

Lost in her own thoughts, Jenny didn't realise what Lex was doing on the laptop, Lex had realised that now that the pleasure-bot program was uploaded and was successfully installed into their maid-bot, he knew it wouldn't actually work on their maid-bot, as it didn't have that function. But he wanted to check to see if the program was capable of being installed on a working bot to eliminate any other potential issues with the broken pleasure-bot. He could now at least though test the custom personality out on the pleasure-bot to see if it worked, then he could just upload and install the basic pleasure-bot program again to the actual pleasure-bot afterwards. It seemed simple enough, plus Lex also wanted to find out what the custom personality Jenny had made for their maid-bot was like...

Jenny could only look on in horror, as Lex started plugging in, a cable into the broken pleasure-bot. Then Jenny heard Lex typing something, followed by a few clicks on his mouse. Jenny's vision suddenly went black and then she felt herself falling. She knew, based on her recent experience in the basement, that it must mean her mind was being transferred!. Jenny feared the worse, she knew where she must be heading, and she certainly was not happy about it!.

It wasn't long before Jenny's vision returned, but all she could see was the lights hanging from the ceiling, Jenny quickly came to the conclusion that her mind was now in the pleasure-bot on the table. Completely unable to move or say anything, Jenny could hear Lex typing away and talking to himself, which didn't comfort Jenny all that much.

Lex had already moved the original pleasure-bots existing data onto his laptop, enabling him to be able to edit its own custom personality and remove the pleasure-bots base program, ready for a clean re-install later.

While he was looking through its files, he noticed the pleasure-bots manufacturer's code assigned to the pleasure-bot. He copied it and added it to the base program of the one that was currently loaded to the pleasure-bot (Jenny's actual mind). His thinking was, that this should help with any potential connection or registrational issues. With that Lex re-booted the pleasure-bot, forcing Jenny into temporary darkness.

Suddenly Jenny's eye's were open again, but she instantly did not like what she saw happening. Jenny was now sitting on the table, facing Lex's laptop. With Lex to her left, unplugging their maid-bot and re-booting it. Jenny was still unable to move, but if she could of, she would have tried to stop Lex. But it was too late, their maid-bot loaded back up, and Lex instructed it to start preparing dinner. Jenny was confused at how it had gotten so late, but she was more concerned about seeing their maid-bot leaving the room, while she was now stuck in the pleasure-bot!

Lex left Jenny sitting on the table, while he tidied up a bit and went to have a shower, before he had dinner. It was a good couple of hours before Lex returned, and Jenny knew that Lex usually like to watch TV while he had his dinner, so she presumed, he must of gotten into whatever he was watching.

Lex walked into the room and checked his laptop, to make sure that the pleasure-bot was still functioning correctly and there were no issues with the program. Finally Lex turned around and unplugged the cable from Jenny.

Jenny then heard Lex say the words she didn't want to hear. "Pleasure-bot, activate", with that Jenny could finally feel her body moving as she stood up from sitting on the table. Lex continued, "Pleasure-bot, state designations", Jenny then heard herself say in a more sultry voice, "This pleasure unit's primary designation is PB-76358, a mark 3 pleasure-bot, manufactured by PleasureBots. Inc. There is currently only one other designation attached to this unit, which is a custom personality named Jenny". Jenny couldn't believe what she was saying!, the pleasure-bot had just confirmed the Jenny was now a part of it's custom inventory.

Lex then asked the pleasure-bot, "PB-76358, Please scan me and then add me as the primary admin user of this unit, user name, Alex". Jenny was shocked that Lex had used his actual name instead of the shortened version, that everyone used (mainly because of the confusion between him and one of Jenny's female friends also being called Alex)

Jenny, heard herself confirm, "New admin user, confirmed. Good evening Alex, how may this unit be of service to you tonight".

Lex informed the pleasure-bot, "PB-76358, can you please enable the Jenny personality". Jenny's mind was a blur as she could feel herself spreading throughout the pleasure-bot, she had now been given access to the entire unit. She realised very quickly that she could now move more freely, as she brought her hands up in-front of her eyes.

Lex looked impressed and asked the unit, "Please confirm designation and confirm users". Jenny wanted to tell Lex it was her, but as she started talking, (also in a sultry robotic version of her actual voice) she realised that the pleasure-bot program was still in control, as she responded with "This units current designation is 'Jenny' a custom personality of this unit. You, Alex are currently the sole & admin user of this unit".

Lex took a long look at the pleasure-bot... Jenny could see, he was trying to work out what to do next with it (her). Jenny suddenly got a heart dropping thought in her mind, If I'm away for the weekend and he's got this bot that has my name and sounds like me. Oh god! that look! he's, he's...checking me out!! Jenny tried to talk but what she was saying wasn't coming out of the pleasure-bots mouth. Well at least not exactly what she was actually saying, it was like there was a filter, from what she was trying to say, and what was actually being spoken by the pleasure-bot, even her movements seemed to be slightly limited, almost matching with what the pleasure-bot was saying.

Lex, stared transfixed on the pleasure-bot and how it sounded so much like Jenny, as the pleasure-bot continued to put one hand on it's hip seductively, "So, Alex, I can see you're checking me out. Would you like to finish checking me out in the bedroom?"

Lex, started thinking out loud, "well I guess I should at least make sure that you are fully functional...Erm...Jenny?", in Lex's head he was thinking, besides, Jenny's not home till late Sunday evening, and Max isn't picking up the pleasure-bot until Sunday afternoon, what's the harm?. With that, Lex confirmed and instructed 'Jenny the pleasure-bot' to their bedroom.

Jenny was distraught! As she started walking to their bedroom as instructed, she suddenly noticed she could feel the breeze of air as she was walking all over her body. Desperately in one last desperate plea, before she had to watch her partner pleasure himself, with no direct control of her actions, Jenny screamed, 'Lex!!! Don't do this!! Don't do this to me!!!, To your fing girlfriend!!!!', But all Jenny heard from her mouth was, "Alex, I bet you cant wait to f me like your girlfriend".
